Documation Offers Free Webinar Showcasing Digital Mailroom Solution

Eastleigh, Hampshire UK, 16th July 2009 – Documation, an awarding winning provider of document management and workflow solutions is hosting a free webinar featuring its popular Digital Mailroom solution. The webinar will be held on July 30th at 11am BST and will showcase a live demonstration of the digital mailroom solution.

The free Digital Mailroom webinar is being held as a result of the demand for this product. Steve Pittaway, Sales and Marketing Manager for Documation explains: “We have recently seen a surge in the demand for our digital mailroom solution. As a reaction to the current economic climate, organisations are looking at ways they can streamline their processes, improve efficiency and ultimately cut costs. Organisations now realise that they can receive these benefits by moving from a manual mailroom to a digital mailroom.”

The free Documation Digital Mailroom webinar is being hosted in association with EMC Captiva. EMC Captiva’s OCR (Optical Character Recognition) is a vital part of the digital mailroom solution. Enabling companies to extract data from incoming documents means they can then route these documents to the appropriate person or department automatically – removing the manual, time consuming process of sorting traditional mail.

Delegates can register for the webinar on the Documation website at <http://www.documation.co.uk/Digital-Mailroom-Webinar.html>.
